Family Circle Lesson

This month, our Family Circle lesson was an introduction to the members of their new, multi-age/grade group. Kids spent time learning the names and a favorite pastime of the kids in their Family Circle by playing a circle game. We also reviewed our five core values and discussed the purpose and importance of Family Circle lessons.

A few questions you can ask your kids to spark conversations at home about Family Circles:

- Who is your Family Circle teacher?
- Who are some of the kids in your Family Circle? Do you remember any of the motions/actions that went with their name when you played the circle game?
- Can we play the circle game as a family? Will you teach it to us?
- Why do you think Leonard has Family Circles? What are they for/what's their purpose?
